Hi Folks,

Thanks again to all of you who have emailed info about making masks. I've gotten a bit more info, which I will pass along here. Some of it, I admit, is conflicting and I don't know which is correct, so I'm simply passing all this info along and asking that you decide for yourselves if this is something that you'd like to offer your services to...I'm not necessarily trying to rally anyone.

The position of the current scientific community is that homemade masks are not safe or recommended, as they do not offer safe protection and can cause false security. Fabric masks should NOT be used for CV19. BUT they are absolutely useful for all of the other reasons. Medical technicians, nurses, EMTs, and doctors use masks; some hospitals and nursing homes (Hope Hospice, for example) have asked people to sew masks so they can save the N95 masks for the situations where they are most needed. Currently the only local hospitals we know that are accepting fabric masks are Kaiser Oakland and Mills Peninsula.

Besides the links below, there are a ton of other videos/tutorials/pros and cons, simply google 'fabric surgical mask'.

Many blessings,

Suzanne
